

"It is difficult to express what one feels when he feels as if he is running on map. We are in equilibrium on a line. And that line meant south and east—fabulous points of Italy—at the same time. Puglia was beautiful; it had to be touched deep down."

Franco Antonicelli

